Dub Station Reggae Artists

Members:

Managing bassist & producer Kyle Russell, with project-specific team of players depending on the front-person(s)

Influences:

eclectic, including Bob Marley, Black Uhuru, Culture, other roots & contemporary artists

Sounds Like:

an uptempo backing band with its own distinctive flavor

About The Artist:

While the group works with many more Artists, the songs here featured demonstrate a cross section of the group's versatility, both in the studio, and live. Dub Station has been the glue, or a magnifying glass through which most of the artists featured have launched or intensified their careers (check the Info section on each tune for more song-specific background).

Constantly reinventing itself, the Dub Station is seeking further exposure for its existing roster and catalog, as well as new recording, touring, and Artist development opportunities.

In a sense, Dub Station is both long established (for over a decade) and up-and-coming (still broadening its global scope and exposure).

Having won various awards ("Outstanding Reggae Act," "Best Caribbean Band," etc.), performed ... Read More
